UNCLE SAM WILL NOT TOLERATE CHANGES IN PRATT AMENDMENT

Cabinet Has Decided to Send an Ultimatum—Administration Does Not Propose to Have Any Strings Attached to the Acceptance of Same.

Washington, June 8.—General Wood has been instructed officially to say to the Cubans that they cannot proceed to form their government until the Platt amendment in letter and spirit has been accepted. This was the result of a meeting of the cabinet held yesterday afternoon. The latest telegram from General Wood had convinced Secretary Root that the chances for the acceptance of the Platt amendment without a string tied to it were not good at this time. The outcome of the cabinet meeting is thus stated by a member of that body.

BAD TEETH ARE CAUSE OF CRIME

Defense of Man Accused of Theft in Milwaukee That His Molars Are Defective.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—A firm of lawyers in the case of Thomas O'Neil, charged with being a thief, will offer as a defense that bad teeth make a man irresponsible for crime. They will bring some expert testimony to show that decayed molars have caused men to commit all sorts of crimes. It is said that they rely principally upon the exhaustive investigations said to have been made along this line by Dr. Federspiel of the Racine County Insane Asylum. The doctor has made diligent research and has come to the conclusion that defective molars and bicusps have a tendency to cause men to commit crimes.

REPUBLICANISM IS RAMPANT IN ITALY

Rome, June 8.—The Popolo Romano states that in the Vatican circles it is regarded as certain that the pope will withdraw his prohibition which prevents his followers from taking part in the Italian elections. The pope and clericals realize that only Catholic votes can stem the tide of republicanism which threatens to overwhelm Italy.

WILL JANESVILLE CELEBRATE THE GLORIOUS FOURTH THIS YEAR?

Business Men of the City Are Anxious for a Rousing Demonstration—Suggestion That Mayor Richardson Call a Public Meeting.

Is Janesville going to celebrate the glorious Fourth this year? Is the city going to keep step in patriotic sentiment with the inspiring march of progress which has started well on its way in material things or is she going to forget that she belongs to a new era and return to the old habit of indifference? The coming Fourth will be the first of the twentieth century which is to bring all sorts of marvelous things not only to our nation but to our city. Surely at the beginning of the new century if at no other time the anniversary of our nation's birth should be appropriately observed. Ere the old century passed away Janesville redeemed herself nobly for years of negligence and the celebrations of the past two years are still remembered with a thrill of pride. Surely no backward step should be taken this year when prosperity beams on us so radiantly and we have every reason in the world to rejoice and be glad and to sound our notes of triumphant glory so loud that all the surrounding country shall hear. Give the cannons an opportunity to boom and encourage the small boy to shout and take this fact right home that if Janesville is to celebrate in a worthy manner the work must be started at once. It is late now, and in a few days the surrounding towns, which have been waiting to see what this city intends to do, will come to the conclusion that we have fallen asleep, and will begin to make plans of their own. Preparations for celebrations are already well under way in many of the cities of the state. The business men of the city are anxious for a celebration and the people are always disappointed when there is no public notice taken of the Fourth. People in the surrounding country are also deeply interested and there is frequent inquiry about what the city intends to do. All that remains is for some one to take the initial step and start the ball rolling. Several splendid plans for celebrations are in mind and will be offered for serious consideration as soon as the city takes some definite action. The sentiment in favor of the celebration should crystallize sufficiently to warrant Mayor Richardson in calling a public meeting.

DEPEW'S THIRD TERM SUGGESTION MAKES PRESIDENT M'KINLEY LAUGH

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Senator Depew's suggestion that President McKinley be nominated for a third term does not disturb the president who looks upon it as one of Mr. Depew's summer jokes and he has declined to talk about it even to his most intimate friends in the cabinet. When Perry S. Heath made the same suggestion in his London interview two months ago the president laughed at it as Heath's ingenious plan to have his interview called to this country. He takes Senator Depew's talk no more seriously. The president is, however, surrounded by many sycophants who look upon Depew's talk as foreshadowing a revolution in American sentiment and the eradication of the old prejudice against a third term for presidents. With these people the wish is father to the thought, and they are probably considering their own continuance in official life quite as much as that of President McKinley's.

MOB THREATENS MUSCLE DANCERS

Findlay, O., Citizens Are Enraged Over an Elks' Carnival with Coochee-Coochee Shows.

Findlay, Ohio, June 8.—Three hundred men and women jammed the office of the Probate court here all the morning making speeches against the Elks' carnival. They petitioned the Judge for an injunction against the shows but were refused, for Judge Taylor of the common pleas court is not in the city. "I will lead you, men. I will take a hatchet and cut the ropes of these tents of sin," shouted one of the leading W. C. T. U. women of the city. The coochee-coochee dances are the bottom of the whole thing. This week the local lodge of Elks has been giving a carnival and the show is giving the musical dance in true Turkish style.

OSTEOPATHS MAY CHOOSE DR. CROW

The Janesville Physician Likely to Represent Her Practice on State Medical Board.

Milwaukee, June 8.—The Osteopaths of the state opened their convention at the osteopathic college on Milwaukee street last evening. One of the principal subjects to come up is the recommendation for a member of the state board, in accordance with a law passed by the last legislature. It is stated that the selection will probably fall upon Dr. Louisa Crow of Janesville. Dr. Crow was one of the active workers at Madison last winter for the recognition of the osteopaths and made many friends during the time she was arguing the passage of the McComb bill. The plan is to ballot for five names of osteopathic physicians to be presented to the governor, from which will be chosen a member of the state medical board. The quintette will be selected at today's session at the College of Osteopathy. The position is an important one, as to this member of the board will fall the duty of examining candidates for state medical certificates from the osteopathic standpoint.

Bernhardt will play in English, and after the American tour the two actresses will appear here and on the continent.

CHILDREN GAVE ONE-RING CIRCUS

Forest Park Juveniles Enjoyed Themselves This Afternoon—Many Were in Attendance.

This afternoon in Forest Park an old fashioned one-ring circus held sway. Twenty children participated as performers and the large audience was amused in all that the word implies. The acts consisted of daring trapeze feats and tumbling. A spotted Jersey cow and a pony were also introduced and did marvelous tricks. Between acts popcorn and candy vendors got in their work. A concert followed the big show being given on an elevated stage. But it was the side show that captivated the audience. Here on elevated stands every known freak from Big Fotted Ann to the bearded lady held forth. A large phonograph furnished music throughout the performance. The sum of thirty cents was realized and the show was a success from a financial standpoint. The Misses Doty and Gilkey and the Messrs. Yonce and Gilkey were the star performers. No performance will be given this evening.

West Superior, Wis., June 8.—The next convention of the Knights of the Macabees will be held in Eau Claire. This was decided at the meeting yesterday afternoon. Madison was the rival candidate. J. W. AN EPIDEMIC OF DUELS IN PARIS

Regis and Laberdezque Continue Their Desperate Encounter.

REGIS WAS PINKED

Fresh Insults Lead the Pair to Decide Upon Another Meeting Soon.

CAUSES MORE DUELS

Paris, June 8.—Max Regis and M. Laberdezque, who fought two and a half hours with swords without result, resumed their encounter this morning. Regis was pinked in the forearm and hostilities were suspended, but the end is not yet. Regis, in his great rage over his ill luck, insulted Laberdezque afresh before leaving the field and another duel was decided upon. After the combat was over the principals, seconds, doctors, and spectators indulged in a fierce war of words. While this was going on two Paris newspaper reporters got into a hot anti-semitic argument and then there arranged a duel. Regis received his wound in the first round. It bled profusely. When he felt the touch of cold steel, Regis shook his uninjured arm at his adversary and screamed "assassin." It is considered likely that other duels will grow out of the affair. A veritable epidemic of duels seems to be raging there. Max Regis will be remembered as the man who made himself notorious by instigating the anti-Jew riots in Algiers who was subsequently elected mayor of the town. During his tenure of office the most disgraceful scenes were enacted in Algiers. So ferociously unjust were the riots which he not only tolerated but connived at that he was suspended and finally dismissed from his office. He is one of the most popular men in France, notwithstanding the fact that he is not a Frenchman at all, but a naturalized citizen. He was tried last year on charges of sedition but was acquitted.

PHYSICIANS WANT ARMY CANTEN

The American Medical Society Takes Strong Ground in Favor of the Post Exchange.

St. Paul, Minn., June 8.—By unanimous vote, although with small attendance, the American Medical association yesterday afternoon adopted a report endorsing the movement for the re-establishment of the army post canteen. The resolution adopted is as follows: "Resolved that his body deplores the action of Congress in abolishing the army post exchange or canteen, and in the interest of discipline, morality, and sanitation recommends its re-establishment at the earliest possible date." Lulu Kennedy Hysterical. Kansas City, Mo., June 8.—Lulu Kennedy, on trial for the murder of her husband, broke down completely during today's proceedings and became so hysterical that the court had to be adjourned until Monday. Mrs. R. Brand of 163 Linn street left his morning for Chicago where she will visit Miss Mary Antislid for a few days and attend the quarterly mission meeting at Austin.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BANQUET AN ARISTOCRACY OF INTELLECT

The Reunion at the High School Building Last Night Was a Brilliant Success—Miss Abbie Atwood Presided—Excellent Post-Prandial Program

The Alumni Association of the Janesville High school has taken a far step forward this year and has begun to realize the illustrious position which it is privileged to enjoy as one of the leading educational and progressive forces of the city. With one bound it has passed the experimental stage where it was kept alive only by the determination of a faithful few to a new era of prosperity and appreciation of the fact that it is an aristocracy of intellect, justified in its own pride. Reunion Was a Success. The reunion held last evening at the High school building was by far the most brilliant success which members of the association have ever enjoyed. The attendance was much larger than ever before and nearly 250 people joined in the evening's pleasure. This pleasure was an universal one in which all ages were equal sharers and no class ever received a more cordial welcome into the ranks of the alumni than was accorded this year's graduates. Upon their arrival the guests gathered in the assembly room and at 7 o'clock Miss Abbie Atwood, the president and the one to whom the evening's success was largely due, called the roll of the classes. The members of the association formed in double line through the hallway leading to the gymnasium where the banquet was served and the guests of the evening, the graduating class, the

HOW NATIVES LIVE IN THE PHILIPPINES

Visitors to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo Get Very Good Ideas of It.

The Philippine Islands exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition excites much curiosity. One large portion of the exhibit consists of agricultural implements and products. There is the primitive plough and rake used in the rice fields, knives for cutting rice straw, rice sifters, baskets and sieves, models of rice mills and finally the rice itself.

Next comes the famous Manila hemp in huge skeins, like flaxen hair, or made up into ropes and cables. There are sugar baskets and bales and native sugar of various grades, tobacco, coffee, indigo, dye stuffs, coconut fibre and oil, and the beautiful and wonderfully delicate linen cloth, made from pineapple fibre.

Most abundant of all is the bamboo, which the Filipino adapts to every conceivable use. There are bedsteads, of bamboo, chairs, tables, brushes, milk jars, rakes, rafts, and strangest of all, musical instruments. Hardly less important is rattan, of which the natives construct baskets, balls, mats, and numerous other household articles.

The palm leaf is everywhere in evidence, for roofs, hats, cloaks, fans, baskets, etc. The collection includes all kinds of fishery apparatus, lines, nets, boats, rafts, baskets, etc. The tools of the various trades are also well represented, such as a complete carpenter's kit, carriage and harness makers' tools, masons' tools, a tinsmith's outfit, farmers' implements, etc. Visitors find much to interest them in the household utensils and appliances, not the least curious of which are the little earthenware stoves, of which no well-appointed kitchen contains less than half a dozen.

Then there are spoons and bowls of coconut shells, knives and forks of buffalo bone, grass brooms, bamboo bird cages, pottery, water bottles, baskets of every size and description.

Quite a different side of life in the islands is shown by the gorgeous embroidered silk and satin gowns worn by the belles of Manila, lace mantillas, embroidered and lace handkerchiefs and scarfs, necklaces, bracelets and other jewelry.

Intellectual products have not been forgotten. There are books on all subjects, printed in Manila, school books and examination papers; printed music, including a piece dedicated to Aguinaldo.

Among the art products are shell, horn and wood carvings.

A reminder of the Spanish government is to be found in the postage stamps, coin and paper money, tax receipts, proclamations, etc.

There are also Spanish guns and other weapons. Alongside of these are many curious native weapons, captured by our troops, armor made of buffalo hide, spears, knives and bolos, bows and arrows, and most singular of all, cannon made of wood wound with wire.

The exhibit is supplemented with several hundred mounted photographs, colored pictures of flowers and plants, and a small collection of annuals.

INSECTS BUILD TENT SHAPED WEBS

The Trees in This Part of the Country Afflicted with a Peculiar Caterpillar.

The trees in this part of the country are afflicted with a peculiar caterpillar that eats up the foliage, and leaves the tree looking as if fire had run over it, and eventually killing it. These caterpillars spin a peculiar tent shaped web in the crotches of the trees and the only way to exterminate them is by pouring kerosene on them or by taking a torch and burning the nests. Thousands of these tents are to be seen in the trees along the Magnolia and Cent. roads.

A DISAPPOINTMENT FOR EDNA ROGERS

Miss Edna Rogers is confined to her bed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rogers, with appendicitis, and is very ill. Miss Rogers is a member of the graduating class and was on the program Tuesday evening. She had suffered a severe attack of appendicitis for some time and virtually rose from her sick bed to take her part in the exercises. Immediately after the exercises Tuesday night there was a recurrence of the attack and the attending physician told her that her life depended on her remaining in bed. Miss Rogers not only missed the closing exercises of commencement and the Alumni reception, but she will be deprived of the pleasure of the class party and picnic. The disappointment is a keen one and Miss Rogers says that she does not regret that she was present at one of the commencement evenings even though she must pay for it dearly.

EASTERN STAR EXCURSION.

ANOTHER STORY ON JACKMAN BLOCK

C. S. Jackman has decided to further improve the Jackman block, at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, which is now undergoing repairs, by the addition of another story.

The roof will be taken off and replaced with a new one. The story to be added will be used for Valentine's school of telegraphy, which will occupy the entire floor. The second, third and fourth floors will be used for offices. The arrangement of the offices will be practically the same on each floor.

This improvement means the outlay of considerable money, but it will help to make the block one of the finest and most commodious in the city.

THE FORESTERS' EXCURSION JUNE 11

There will be an excursion on the C. & N. W. Ry to Madison Tuesday, June 11, under the auspices of St. Joseph's Court No. 229 and St. Mary's Court No. 179, Catholic Order of Foresters, to attend state convention. This day is set apart for all Catholic societies in the state, and an interesting program is promised all who attend. There will be addresses given by Mayor Storm Bull, Gov. OUR HERITAGE.

The following program was written by Coral Bonesteel, and given on Thursday evening on the High School Commencement program:

Not for greed and the gain of the nations, Who sought treasure and wealth from afar Did our beautiful land lie awaiting, For the rise of her destiny's star.

A lone vessel appears in the offing, Tossed by storm and the waves wild unrest.

It is safety and hope she is seeking, And a haven for souls long oppressed.

But no beacon light flashes a welcome, Naught but wind and the breakers loud roar.

Know ye not favored land that thy mission Sent of God is 'e'en now at thy door?

On the rugged rocks landed the pilgrims Just a handful determined and grim And the building a home in the wild, wood.

In the forests, primeval and dim.

In the night of the years the scene changes, And "America" brings to our sight, No more those oppressed and downtrodden, But a nation arisen in her might.

In the warp and the woof of her being, Spun like thread by the weaver's deft hand,

Runs a principal strong and undying, It is freedom for all in our land.

On her altars its fire's ever burning; To uphold it men struggled and died, From the cradle of war and of battle Rose Columbia, saved, purified.

Now her statue, so proud and commanding, Tells the nations of Liberty's sway, Her bright torch high above the wild waters, Welcomes all to the light of our day.

There's no country however far distant, Which has hope to the heavy heart brought,

Some bond loosened or heavy yoke lifted, But from lessons our nation has taught.

We have learned that the new in man's thinking, Is not new after all, but the old.

Thought again, wrought upon, recreated, And brought out as a work of new mould.

As when men rear the beautiful temples With their columns, low arches, and Slaty isles and bright colors from models

In God's temples, the forests of pine.

To the structure our country is rearing With the best of its thought, blood and tears

Is the "here and the now" of the spirit Of our lives, coming down through the years.

The world's progress we reckon by eras As the era of ice and of stone, Of reformers, philosophers, poets; Out of these then our nation has grown.

Far beyond the wildest dreams it has prospered, Forces, social and moral, join hand With material growth and with learning; All combine to exalt our fair land.

You still higher its banner we're holding, For the world's education it stands, In equality, justice and mercy, Can works nobler be shown at her hands?

Speed her on then, the good ship! through the billows Of the world's troubled waters she sails, But she quails not at storm or at gales.

In the strength and thy power lift the burden, Take thy share of the world's work and skill;

In thy hands the future of nations, And a world just to mould at thy will.

TRIP OVER SHORT LINE TO CHICAGO

A Better Piece of Road Than the Southeastern Does Not Run Out of Janesville.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul may well feel proud of the Janesville & Southeastern, their new branch. A better piece of road does not run out of Janesville and the equipment is in keeping with the rest of the line. For a line that has only been in operation five days the roadbed is a revelation. It is as smooth as a bowling alley and as clean looking as a newly macadamized street. When the company said the line would be one of the best they knew what they were talking about.

The road runs through some of the finest farming lands in Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, dotted with beautiful lakes and green woodlands. From Janesville to Roundout, the end of the new line, the scenery is hard to beat.

At the different stopping points along the line handsome stations have been built, painted a light yellow, trimmed with white, which forms a pleasing contrast to the green of the surrounding country. The equipment consists of solid vestibuled trains with parlor cars on every train, which adds very materially to the pleasure of the ride.

At Walworth the road makes connection with electric line which runs to Lake Geneva and lands the visitor at Fontana Park in about ten minutes. At Long Lake handsome picnic grounds have been laid out for the benefit of the patrons of the road, the run from this city being made in about one hour. A short distance below Roundout, on the Chicago and Milwaukee division, the train passes Golf, the summer home of the Glenview golf club, one of the prettiest courses about Chicago. The entire line from this city to Chicago is dotted with points of interest and makes the ride one of pleasure.

Since its opening the new line has done a rushing business and has exceeded the expectations of the management. It gives the people of all the stations this side of Madison the benefit of a short line to Chicago from their homes without a change of cars. The patronage given the road shows that they fully appreciate the effort made to put them on a short line which is something they have not heretofore enjoyed.

Ladies who have used Maple City Soap will testify to its merits.

"JAMIE" BRAID IS GOLF CHAMPION

Peculiarities of the Golfer Who Annexed the World's Trophy at Gullane Yesterday.

For the first time in eight years the open championship of Great Britain went to a Scotchman; when "Jamie" Braid of Romford annexed the trophy at Gullane yesterday. Braid, who is 29 years of age, is a native of Earl's Ferry, Scotland, and his play for several years past has been of such a high character that the Scots to a man pinned their faith to him as being the only representative of their capable of bringing the coveted honor to "Bonnie" Scotland. For the past two years Braid has been the professional at the Romford golf club of England, but most of his work has been done over Scotland's famous links.

Braid is not altogether an attractive type to watch. It is sound, but not orthodox. He is considered one of the longest drivers of the world, and he plays with the ball well forward. After the ball is hit he seems to be putting his greatest force into hitting it, and this is probably the main secret of his length of drive. He seems to press hard at every drive he makes, but the true meaning of this is that he is in such perfect training of eye and muscle that he is able to concentrate all his force on the stroke, and in spite of its lack of grace, it is a peculiarly fascinating style to watch.

If there is a lack of apparent finish about Braid's driving style, there is none in his manner of handling iron clubs. He is very powerful with them at long range, and his manner of using them is less forcing than his driving work. Braid is a finished approacher, but now and then his putting is weak. However at Hoylake, when Braid was runner-up for the championship, good putting was in the greatest request, for the course was so hard baked that unless a man had the touch of his putter most subtly true he could not hope for even a decent score.

The feature of Braid's style is the excellent manner in which he follows on after the club and ball meet. It is in what there is "after the ball," as the phrase goes, rather than before it, that his swing is worthy of imitation.

FRILLS OF FASHION.
Wider belts are being used, some of the latest ones requiring buckles four and five inches deep.
Shirt waists of gingham, in green and old rose, have chimesettes and wristbands of pique.
The semi-transparent woolen material known as mistral crepe, will be extensively used for dressy afternoon gowns. This goods comes in soft shades of gray, tan, blue, and old rose.

Short skirts for morning wear are again seen in Paris, and if they figure much in the summer exodus, as they are likely to do, it means that they will be popular not only for the summer season, but also in the fall.

The presence of many Russian embroidered effects in brilliant colors on white dresses, the new Bulgarian embroideries, and the first introduction of Soudanese gold embroideries are strong indications of the form of new French ideas.

Tan colored batistes and ecru linen lawns, grass cloths, and silk linens will be trimmed with lace appliques and insertions of the same shade. The gimpes and sleeves of the matching net or lace are unlined, or the yoke and sleeves are of tucked batiste, linen, etc., alternating with a line of pink or blue. The smartest of the dresses, however, are as first described, a note of black velvet ribbon relieving the neutral effect of the tan or ecru gown.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Union Miners Win a Victory.
Princeton, Ky., June 8.—A decided victory for the United Miners of America was scored here when Judge Nunn handed down his opinion in the injunction case between St. Bernard Coal Company and others against Pittsburg Coal company and others. The suit was result of an injunction granted in Hopkins county by Circuit Court Clerk D. W. Gatline, restraining union miners from getting non-union men to join the Miners' Union, also restraining any assistance to union men and from each to the other.

LABOR TROUBLES AFFECT BUSINESS.

New York, June 8.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade will say: The labor situation in many parts of the country is still seriously unsettled, and constitutes a reason for hesitation in some industries, discouraging new operations which satisfactory conditions would otherwise stimulate. But quick decision is to be expected in some of these labor controversies, and in the meantime trade is encouraged by reports of a satisfactory condition of winter wheat over a large portion of the country.

Machinists Increase Dues.
Toronto, Ont., June 8.—The International Machinists' convention voted yesterday morning to increase members' monthly dues from 30 cents to 75 cents, meaning an addition of $20,000 a month to the association's revenue.

No Strike on Whisky Barrels.
Cincinnati, O., June 8.—Two hundred coopers at the plant of the Cincinnati Cooperage company are out on strike, demanding an increase of 25 cents a day. The portion of the plant manufacturing whisky barrels is not affected.

ALUMNI BANQUET A BRILLIANT EVENT

members of the board of education and the high school faculty and ladies passed through this line and were ushered to the tables reserved for them.

Decorated in Class Colors.

The graduates were seated at a table extending the entire length of the center of the gymnasium. It was handsomely decorated in the class colors, purple and gold, even the china being decorated in royal purple. The same color scheme was followed at all of the tables and the artistic souvenir programs were printed in the two colors which blend so effectively.

The banquet was served by the ladies of the Congregational church as caterers and the feast was of the highest quality and abundant in quantity. It was a most excellent spread and was served by members of the Junior class faithfully and expeditiously, the service being under the direction of Miss Josephine Farnsworth, who deserves the highest credit for the efficiency of her work as chairman of the banquet committee.

Postprandial Program.

The banquet was followed by the postprandial program which was unusually fine, every musical number being artistically given and prosy toasts being a thing unknown. Miss Abbie Atwood presided as toast-mistress charmingly and her introductions were very happy. Her welcome of the class under the subject "The Last New Star in Our Union" was bright and original and was spiced with a few complimentary remarks and some good advice.

The response was given by Harry Kirkland who as class president took "The Oath of Allegiance" for the class. It was by far the best response ever given by a class president and was entirely worthy of the talented young man, who represented his class so ably.

As a Union of States.

The conception of the association as a union of states was carried out in all of the responses. Mrs. Walter Helms toasted "Our Original Colonies" and voiced the praises of the early classes and the early school days in a very witty and amusing manner which kept smiles on the faces of her hearers. Miss Imogene McDonald named the classes "The States of the Union" and found in "Our Glorious Sisterhood of States."

Judge C. L. Fifeid who is entitled to attend the Alumni reunions because his wife is a member, found opportunity for many witty remarks in his toast, "Provinces Which We Have Annexed," and referred pleasantly to the diplomatic correspondence, the negotiations between foreign and domestic ministers which preceded annexation and said that the provinces were glad to be taken in. He also prophesied that the graduates would soon be besieged with annexation requests. Burr J. Scott's response "Are We a Patriotic People?" was very bright and entertaining.

Supt. Mayne Grateful.

Supt. D. D. Mayne prefaced his response "Our Duties to Our Territories" with a few personal remarks which his emotion made especially difficult. He felt that he could not let his opportunity pass without expressing his gratefulness to the alumni of the high school. Every face brought to his memory some kindness which had been tendered him and while a "wholesome thank you" seemed unappreciative, it represented the gratitude which was in his heart for everyone personally.

He doubted if the future would ever hold anything as pleasant for him as have been his eight years in Jamesville. He then spoke of the great educational influence which the association should exert and urged the importance of giving the 2,500 children in the schools the very best teaching and advantages. He urged the people to uphold the bands of his successor.

Development of Schools.

Under "Advancement of Territorial Government" Miss Minnie Menzies very happily traced the development of the schools and paid a very graceful tribute to Mr. Mayne, assuring him and his wife of the love of those whom they are soon to leave. This tribute was emphasized by the action of the association in making Mr. Mayne an honorary member, the suggestion being made by S. C. Burnham with a few timely remarks of appreciation. Mr. Mayne accepted the membership as one of the honors to be most highly prized.

The new Superintendent Supt. H. C. Buell spoke on "The Outlook" but all his remarks were a compliment to Mr. Mayne, direct or indirect. He spoke of the great loss which his removal would mean to the city and to the state of Wisconsin saying that the state educational system has been largely modified by the experiments which have been introduced in schools of which Supt. Mayne had charge. By continuing on the lines established by Mr. Mayne the speaker found the outlook very promising.

Fine Musical Program

The program of toasts was interspersed with exquisite music, every number being encoored and several responses given. A mandolin orchestra, composed of Harry Haggart and Lawrence Doty mandolins and Edward Wray, guitar. It was their first public appearance and they played several selections delightfully, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and "Boccaccio March" being among the number.

The piano music was by Miss Marie McClerman, who played "Whispering Wind" and "Old Black Joe" with variations exquisitely and by Mrs. W. T. Sherer and Miss Tessie Gibbons whose duet, Weber's "Invitation," to the dance was one of the delights of the evening.

The vocal solos were especially fine. Mrs. Ben Carle sang "Tis But a Dream," which was admirably suited to her rich contralto voice. Leonard M. Mathew's melodious baritone was heard in two exquisite numbers "Davy Jones' Locker" and "Forgotten" and Miss Carolyn Van-Akin's pure, sweet soprano was delightful in "Spring Song" by Frühlingslied, Oscar Halverson playing the violin obligato which enhanced the beauty of the song. The piano accompaniments were played by Mrs. Sherer and Misses Cora Anderson and Elva Crawford.

Those who served the banquet and assisted in ushering and the check room were:

INDIANS NOT LIABLE TO GAME LAW; THEY HAVE SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

Madison, Wis., June 8.—Judge Bunn, an ardent fisherman, makes some interesting statements in his opinion holding that Indians are not liable to the state fish and game law in hunting or fishing on their reservations during the closed season. The opinion which was filed today was in the case of John Blackbird, a Chippewa Indian convicted at Ashland of fishing on the Bad River reservation during the closed season. After holding that tribal Indians on reservations are the especial wards of the federal government and cannot be prosecuted under the state statutes, the judge says:

"After taking from them (the Indians) the great body of their lands in Minnesota and Wisconsin, allowing them to reserve certain portions for reservations and stipulating that they should always have the right to fish and hunt upon all the lands so ceded, it would be adding an insult as well as an injustice now to deprive them of the poor privilege of fishing with a seine for suckers in a little red-marsh stream upon their own reservation. It is well known that these fish cannot be taken with hook and line, but only by spears and nets. They are a fish that white men will hardly ever eat, though it is a matter of common knowledge that Indians prize them quite as highly as brook trout.

"These lands have for a long time been their hunting and fishing ground. When an Indian cannot get a morsel of pork and white flour a red horse or sucker from some stream where brook trout would never abide, boiled or roasted by a campfire, is sometimes a luxury, to deprive him of which would be ungrateful in the extreme. I feel confident that neither the state nor congress ever meditated any such cruelty and that the prisoner's arrest was the result of overzeal on the part of a fish and game warden, which may be excusable, but is not justifiable in law."

Children and adults at 2 p. m. Preaching at 7:45 p. m. Subject "The Blessedness of Trusting in God." Meeting Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Everybody invited.

RUTLEDGE LEAPS TO DEATH

Bank Robber Jumps from Balcony in Toronto Jail.

HE FLED FROM THE GUARDS.

He Is Supposed to Have Planned an Escape and, Failing, Ended His Life—Fred Rice Alone Survives—Two Companions Dead.

Toronto, Ont., June 8.—Frank Rutledge, one of the three men extradited from Chicago to stand trial for robbery of a bank in Aurora, Ont., committed suicide in jail. Of the three Fred Rice is now the only survivor, and he is under sentence to spend twenty-one years in the penitentiary. Constable Boyd was killed on Tuesday night when the prisoners attempted to escape. Thomas Jones died on Wednesday morning from wounds inflicted by Constable Stewart. At 10 a. m. Frank Rutledge and Fred Rice, both of whom have as many aliases as they have been times in custody, were charged at the police court with the willful murder of Constable Boyd. They pleaded not guilty. The evidence of Constable Stewart, Boyd's partner in conveying the men to jail, was heard. He swore most positively that Rice fired the shot which killed Boyd.

After Stewart's evidence had been duly attested the prisoners were remanded. Should any attempt be made to kill Stewart his evidence can be put in against accused. From the police court both men were taken to the Assizes before Judge MacDoughall to receive sentence on the three charges of burglary on which they have been committed. They stood quietly, never removing their eyes from the judge's face. Rutledge rested his hands upon the rail in front of him, while Rice stood erect, with his arms folded over his breast. They never flinched, and did not move a muscle while the heavy sentence of twenty-one years each was being pronounced. Deathly pale but apparently calm the prisoners were taken back to the jail, and after dinner were taken out in the first floor corridor for exercise and air. Rutledge, after walking round for a short time, rushed up to the second-story balcony, which is formed round the stair well of the building. It is believed he meant to try to escape by the ventilator, but was met by armed guards at every point. He then backed toward the railing and after straightening himself up, sprang upward with a backward jerk of the head. He went clear over the railing and fell on the floor below, getting a thirty-six foot drop. He fell on his head, smashing his skull in, and after lingering for about an hour and a half, died at 4:20 p. m. He never regained consciousness. Rice must now face the murder trial alone, unless he too takes his own life. There is a detachment of men and women sympathizers of the gang here from Chicago, and although they are closely watched, only Vina Seaver is in custody.

Tramps in English Army.
Tramps in England are fast growing fewer. In one county there were about half as many tramps last year as there were four years ago, and in another county there were not one-third as many. Enlistments for the army and navy are considered the cause of the decrease.

Rivals Fight Duel.

Jeffersonville, Ind., June 8.—Thomas True and Floyd Nelson are rivals for the hand of Rose Moore, who lives in Indiana avenue. Wednesday they met at her home, and each was determined to outstay the other. At midnight the bitter feelings of the young men could not be restrained, and each drew a revolver. Four shots were exchanged, one of which entered Nelson's mouth and lodged in his throat. Both men were arrested, Nelson's wound not being considered dangerous. Miss Moore went into hysterics and swooned when the police arrived.

Cuban Asks $200,838 Damages.

Washington, June 8.—Guillermo Machado of Santiago del Valle, Santa Clara Province, Cuba, has submitted a claim for $200,838 to the Spanish treaty claims commission because of the destruction of his sugar plantation by insurgents and Spanish troops.

Great Power and Light Weight.

As a result of a wager M. Canello, a Frenchman, representing a German automobile manufacturing firm, will undertake to construct a machine of 70-horse power and weighing but 1,200 kilograms (about 2,647 pounds). M. Charron, the champion chauffeur of France, who is "the party of the second part," will be $2,000 poorer if M. Canello succeeds.

Volcott Memorial Fund.

At the closing of the fund for a memorial to the late Governor Volcott of Massachusetts a total of $40,181.42 in contributions was acknowledged. Names of 10,000 contributors have been published, but the total number of contributors exceeded this, as in many cases the one forwarding the money represented many givers of small amounts.

Philander C. Knox is the eighth Pennsylvania to fill the position of attorney-general of the United States. The first was William Bradbury of Philadelphia, who was appointed by Washington in 1794 and died a year later. He had been attorney-general of Pennsylvania and judge of the State Supreme court.

Satan Lives in Saturn.

John H. Fulton, M. Satan will go through the struggle as described in Revelations in Saturn and will be hurled from that planet to the earth."

WOMAN

IS LIKE A DELICATE
MUSICAL INSTRUMENT

In good condition she is sweet and lovable, and sings life's song on a joyful harmonious string. Out of order or unstrung, there is discordance and unhappiness. Just as there is one key note to all music so there is one key note to health. A woman might as well try to fly without wings as to feel well and look well while the organs that make her a woman are weak or diseased. She must be healthy inside or she can't be healthy outside. There are thousands of women suffering silently all over the country. Mistaken modesty urges their silence. While there is nothing more admirable than a modest woman, health is of the first importance. Every other consideration should give way before it. Bradfield's Female Regulator is a medicine for women's ills. It is the safest and quickest way to cure leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, nervousness, headache, backache and general weakness. You will be astonished at the result, especially if you have been experimenting with other so-called remedies. We are not asking you to try an uncertainty. Bradfield's Regulator has made happy thousands of women. What it can do for others it can do for you. Sold in drug stores for $1 a bottle.

A free illustrated book will be sent to all who write to THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

To Examine Suspected Tax Dodgers.
A bill which has the support of Governor McLean in Connecticut appoints a tax commissioner with a salary of $2,500 a year, who has power to go into any town and examine suspected tax dodgers under oath. The same bill penalized by $100 fine and 25 per cent addition to a tax list the refusal of a taxpayer to hand in a list.

British Bishops Who Cycle.

Dr. Wmington Ingram will add a third to the number of British bishops who cycle, the other two being the bishop of Ripon, who was the first to adopt the wheel, and the bishop of Colchester, who followed his example. There are three cycling archdeacons—those of London, Durham and Ripon.

Important If True.

Chicago promised to keep enough water flowing through her drainage canal to dilute the sewage to harmless—so as though that could be done! But now the United States compels a large reduction of the flow of water, with the result that the sewage goes down to St. Louis crude and concentrated. Thus is wisdom justified of her children.—New York Tribune.

That is the heartfelt cry of many a mother who sees her beloved child wasting and fading day by day. Sometimes it is too late for medical aid to help the child. It is so weak, so lacking in stamina that there is no vantage ground of help.

One of the results of the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription preceding maternity is a strong, healthy child. Thousands of mothers testify to this. Frequently mothers write, "I was never able to raise a child before using 'Favorite Prescription' or 'All my other children are sickly except this one, and I took your 'Favorite Prescription' this time."

All the child's strength comes from the mother. "Favorite Prescription" gives the mother strength to give her child.

There is no school in "Favorite Prescription," it contains neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless medicine in any condition of the female system.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription" where there is nothing "just as good" for woman's ills.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. Correspondence confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo,

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Two little girls were out in the garden this morning, gathering flowers. One of them said to the other, "I am glad tomorrow is Children's day," and the other one said:

"Yes, so am I, because the church will look so pretty, and mamma says the little piece I am going to speak is as good as a sermon."

The listener turned away unobserved, with the seed of a new thought concerning child life, and the significance of Children's day.

It is well that in thousands of churches all over this Christian land, that tomorrow, the second Sunday in June, is dedicated to childhood, and to the observance of special services conducted by children.

This service was established by the Methodist church many years ago, and was gradually taken up by other churches, until today it is very generally observed.

There is something about the day, and the month, the fairest of all the year, that is appropriate. June, with all its richness of foliage and blossom, is typical of childhood, with its sprightliness and promise.

It is easy to be happy in the month of June, when Nature presents a smiling face, and every tree and every plant decks itself in gay attire, and when the rich carpet that covers the gray earth, bends gracefully to the morning breeze, and sparkles in the early sunlight.

Did you ever notice a bird that refused to sing in June, or an animal that wasn't happy, with Nature for a companion?

Just as natural to be happy in the month of June as it is to breathe. The man or the woman who fails to share in this universal happiness, is entitled to sympathy, for nothing short of suffering or sorrow should prevent.

Childhood, like June, is the happy season of life. With no care or responsibility, giving no thought to the future, and but little to the present, childhood is happy. Touch it with sorrow or disappointment, and like the willow that bends before the blast, it springs back full of life and vigor.

Did you ever see a child that refused to sing, or express by voice the overflowing animal life that bubbles up, like water from the fountain. The boy may have a voice like a crow, and the melody of the girl's vocal organs may be like the screech owl, but expression is never lacking. You always know when childhood is afield and the tone indicates happiness under normal conditions.

Child life, like Nature in June, adapts itself to environments and always makes the best of its surroundings. The daisy struggles up through the dead grass, and with smiling face, extends a morning greeting, and if you are in sympathy with the modest but persistent little flower, you catch the whisper so full of June gladness:

"I'm one of God's messengers, just as contented and happy in this environment, as the nothouse rose across the way, nurtured and watched with so much solicitude."

The little girl who sits on the floor in the 'hovel,' singing a lullaby to the rag doll, knows no greater happiness, and her cup of pleasure is just as full as though she lived in the palace across the street, the doll of a nurse maid.

Child life, like "June," knows no aristocracy. It adapts itself to surroundings, makes the best of circumstances, paints pictures and builds castles, with reckless abandon, knows nothing about failure, yet is wonderfully susceptible to every influence.

The blast blights it, just as the frost and cold north wind blights the flower, and it responds to the touch of love and sympathy, just as the violet responds to the touch of dew and sunshine.

These little tender plants, scattered up and down the earth, coming from all sorts of homes, and out of every kind of environment, appeal to the Christian world more keenly, as the cause of the Master advances, and His eulogy pronounced so many years ago, "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of God," contains new significance.

It is well that the churches in this Christian land are so thoroughly awake to the interests of child life, and that so much care and solicitude is bestowed.

Thousands of churches tomorrow will be bright with flowers and fragrant with June blossoms. But brighter than the flowers, and more fragrant than the blossoms, will be the smiling faces, and the breath of child life that pervades the sanctuary.

As these children, singly and in groups, proclaim the gospel of peace, from lips that have not yet learned the gospel of strife, and as their little voices tremble, in an effort to fill the place with melody, memory will be called back and linger for a little time about the old home and the happy days of childhood.

It is well to remember on Children's day, that back of the child and his effort, is the teacher who for weeks has labored faithfully and patiently, to store the little mind with song and story, prompted simply by the spirit of love, and kindly solicitude.

Children's day is the brightest day of all the year in the lives of many. It should be more thoroughly appreciated and recognized.

COMMENDABLE

Mr. Thoroughgood's communication last evening is very commendable. For nearly twenty-five years Janesville was on an island, so far as railroads are concerned.

The city with short-sighted lack of wisdom, fought railroad interests so successfully that Clinton, Milton, Af-ton and Evansville captured the main lines and Janesville traveled on "Bob-tail" trains. It cost the citizens $50,000 a few years ago to get in touch with the main line of the C. & N. W., and the investment was one of the best that ever came to the city.

The C. M. & St. P. after running all around us for forty years, now comes in without a bonus, paying fancy prices for a right of way and asks the simple privilege of spending a lot of money for buildings to handle increased business when all sorts of obstructions are thrown in the way.

This disposition to retard enterprise and obstruct progress has always been a curse to the city, and it will continue to curse as long as it exists. If there was ever a time in the history of Janesville when the people can afford to unite and work for general and individual prosperity, that time is now. There is neither glory nor profit in obstructing anything. An ordinary every-day tramp can place a tie on the track and ditch a train but the deed adds nothing to his credit.

It is about time that the city, as well as the citizens woke up to the fact that all kinds of obstructions are detrimental to the city.

United effort for a few years will produce results that are a revelation. If you can't help don't hinder.

Congressman Babcock is being severely criticised by the Protective Tariff League, for his effort to have tariff duties on steel products reduced. While self-interest prompts this opposition, it is safe to say that the move is in the right direction. If this country is to retain its prestige, it will be as the result of the most friendly trade relations, in which the spirit of reciprocity will be fully recognized.

Senator Depew created quite a sensation in Chicago the other day, by one of his characteristic newspaper interviews on the next republican nominee for president. While the senator talked seriously, his expression regarding President McKinley was generally regarded as a joke. If the convention was to be held tomorrow, there would be little doubt of the outcome, but four years is too far away to forecast results with any certainty or profit.

Gov. McSweeney holds the whip hand and has brought to time the little boys whose actions have been set forth by him in a common sense letter returning their resignations.

The Eastern question has become the Western question with Uncle Sam's rails and locomotives forming the question mark.

Hazing at Annapolis has received a wet, cold blanket, in the form of a dismissal of the hazers.

The King of Italy can stick up his nose at Queen Draga's husband, anyway.

Hawaii is fast becoming Americanized. Two legislators have been convicted of soliciting bribes.

Prof. Heron is simply trying the old dodge of arguing against an immorality with an alleged higher morality.

We wonder if Dowie had anything to do with yesterday's rain?

Prof. Heron is bidding for the title of "a man without a country."

Real Estate News

Rock county real estate to the value of $45,778.32, has changed hands between the 17th day of May and the 4th day of June.

Fifty-two transfers of property have been recorded in the office of the register of deeds for Rock county during that period. The prices paid run all the way from $100 up to $3,600.

Janesville heads the list with nineteen transfers of a valuation of $13,187.32, and Beloit is second with sixteen of a valuation of $9,700. Evansville and Edgerton have five each, Fulton has three, Milton two, and Center and Clinton each one piece.

While the transfers are not so numerous as they have been some months they show that there is always a demand for city property at a good price. Many improvements in city property are under way and many more are contemplated during the coming season. Thousands of dollars are being distributed among the business men and workmen of the city by these improvements and at present it is almost impossible to hire a carpenter or a mason.

In order to get any idea of the amount of building that is going on one should take the time to ride around the city. New houses and buildings are springing up in every direction. Some of the big enterprises now have their plants well under way so that a good idea of what they will look like when completed may be obtained. Private residences in all stages of completion may be seen in almost every block.

Railroad and electric lines are striving to make outside property more valuable. It may have a tendency to decrease the value of building lots near the center of activity, but not to any marked degree.

Hereafter contractors will have a new factor to figure with when a contract for a house is taken, and that is the demand that will soon be made by the carpenters for a nine-hour day.

A lively call for houses is more certain in the next five years than ever before in the history of Janesville.

The following are the transfers for the period ending June 4:

W. L. Quinn and wife to J. F. Strand, lot 175 E. W. 1 rd. Hackett's, Beloit, $2,000.
Fred L. Dickerman, et al. to David A. Drumm, lot 175 E. W. 1 rd. Hackett's, Beloit, $2,000.

COLICKY FRETTEY TEETHING BABIES NEED LAXAKOLA

The Great Tonic Laxative

WATCH the children carefully. Their health, perhaps their lives, depend on keeping their bowels regular. Many parents make a mistake by giving their little children the old-fashioned, violent purgatives which are racking and griping, and are therefore not only unpleasant, but dangerous.

Laxakola does not gripe nor irritate. It is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative. It is not only a sure laxative, but it contains valuable tonic properties which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, and will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that causes it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as LAXAKOLA neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. It will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature, and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, New York, or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Use 400 lbs. per acre and use it every year till you have raised the grade to No. 1—less acres and more fertilizer will do the business. I intend to keep it on hand, but your order should be placed early to be sure of a supply, as the demand will be largely increased this year.

YANKEE INDUSTRY IN THE HOLY LAND

PUT UP ELECTRIC TROLLEY LINES IN JERUSALEM.

Establishing a Demand for the Industrial Products of the United States—Moslems Buying American Merchandise—A Chicago Windmill Now Running at Yafa.

Yankee ingenuity and commercial vigor are doing wonderful things in the Holy Land. Until a few years ago, if one of the prophets had returned to the scenes of his earthly activities, he would have had little difficulty in recognizing them except by the change in the character of the population. The hills and valleys of old Judea had otherwise taken little note of the flight of centuries.

But times are changing even in Palestine and Syria. The railway from Joppa to Jerusalem, at first an experiment, has been put on a paying basis, and other lines which will connect it with points of interest up and down the valley of the Jordan, have been projected or are actually in the course of building. In Jerusalem there are now electric lights, telephones, phonographs, sanitary plumbing, modern stores, houses built "a. m. i." and many of the other comforts of civilized life. Trolley lines are being talked of which will connect Jerusalem with Bethany, Bethlehem, the Lake of Galilee, Samaria, Jericho, Nazareth, and other places made familiar through bible history. All these things and others are noted in official reports to the state department. With the introduction of these evidences of modern life and activity the Palestine of the past will vanish.

Taking on Modern Ways.

It is related that an American traveling salesman recently went to Jerusalem and Beirut and in a single day sold merchandise of an up-to-date type to the amount of $3,800. Commission houses for the handling of American goods have been opened in nearly every city and town of importance in Palestine and Syria, and in many instances they are being conducted by wide awake American business men. In a single month this year one of the houses imported American leather to the amount of $700. Another one has established a market for American flour, and predicts that in a few years the people of the Holy Land will be good consumers of this staple. Cheap American watches are in demand and have been sold to scores of the natives who regard them with increasing interest.

More than 200 phonographs were sent there, one-half going to the Moslems, the rest to Jerusalem and Beirut. The best customer for talking machines, it is said, is the Moslems of Beirut, Jerusalem and Damascus, who buy them for their harems. One commission house at Beirut has bought, to G. Bie Rayndal, the consul, a $350 windmill for his farm and will erect it on Bakaa plain. This firm predicts that there is to be an American market for windmills in Palestine and Syria and for irrigation of all sorts. Rich foreigners are coming to secure control of the fertile valleys of the country. They would like to succeed there and attempt again to make the land flowing with milk and honey. These foreigners are in the Jews, who are leaders in the "Back to Jerusalem" cry, and in the Moslems, who are being led by Israel Zangwill.

Beer Has Taken Root.

Speaking once more of the windmills, a 17-horse power one has been installed in the interior, west of the Jordan, for flour grinding purposes, and another large one, bought in Chicago, is being put in at Yafa. Even American beer has "broken into" the country. One firm has sold to date 519 cases of 48 bottles each, and another has recently received 150 cases direct from Milwaukee. The municipality of Beirut has added a $3,300 steam street roller to its public equipment, and this is the only steam roller now in Turkey in Asia, although the way is opening for others.

It would be a long story to tell of all the articles of American make that are now being sold in the Land of Promise, but the last, according to late consular advice, embraces cotton fabric, rope, shoes, clocks, paper, carriage leather, bicycles, coal wire, nails, paints, hardware, electrical novelties of all sorts, iron bars, steel beams, well-drilling machinery, canned meat, corn meal, oat meal, mechanics' tools, etc. Wire nails to the amount of almost $5,000 were sold in Syria last year, all of them coming from this country.

Turkish Authorities Interested.

Thus is ancient Syria giving place to modern Syria, and the work is going forward with a will. Important commercial concessions have been secured from the Porte, who appears to be favorably disposed to the modernizing of this part of his dominions, and is watching the exportation with interest. The Turkish authorities themselves have been buyers of American wares. Within the last year they have arranged for the sinking of a large steamer on the route to Mecca, and are providing them with windmills. In this way it is believed that the hardships of the annual pilgrimage can be materially lessened, and the pilgrims kept in reasonably good health. The sickness of former years has been almost entirely due to the impure water along the route.

HIS LIFE SAVED.

By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I am sure that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at one time saved my life," says A. E. Lafayette, of Gregory Landing, Clark County, Missouri. "I was in such bad shape that the doctors said I could not live. When I was at the lowest ebb, one of my neighbors brought in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I took it and got instant relief. I was soon up and around. That was nine years ago and I am still in good health. Since then that medicine has always been in my house and always will be. It is the best on earth." For sale by People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy.

Gentlemen:

I enclose you contract for the supply of coffee for the Bailey Carting Company, at the Pan-American Exposition, to be held in Buffalo during the coming summer. In the selection of your coffee, in competition with samples submitted by a number of the largest importers and roasters in tea country, I have been governed entirely by the quality of the same. My experience with the coffee supplied to me during the past year or so by your house has been so uniformly satisfactory that I feel that I could do no better than to complete this arrangement with you. The amount of coffee which this involves will probably amount to as much or more than has ever been supplied to one consumer in the same length of time, and I congratulate you upon your enterprise in having secured this contract.

Very truly,

HERE IN BUSINESS FOR THIRTY YEARS

Not Three Years, as Others Delight in Harping About—We Sell Pianos on Their Merits.

We sell the Chickering to which the public need no introduction.

We sell the Blasius, which is the result of a half century study, and combines in itself 55 points of merit making it one of the most complete and perfect pianos in the world.

We handle the A. B. Chase of which Mr. F. Ziegfeld, president of the Chicago Musical college says: "Chicago Musical College, March 18, 1897."

For six years we have used the Steinway and A. B. Chase pianos in our college, and I can honestly say that the A. B. Chase are worthy companions of the great Steinway. In regard to durability the A. B. Chase stands second to none. The manufacturers spare no money or labor to manufacture an instrument which will please musicians and artists. Several hundred pianos are sold in Chicago every year and to the very best class of people. At the World's Columbian Exposition, in 1893, the A. B. Chase were adjudged to be equal to the best pianos exhibited.

F. ZIEGFELD, President.

We sell the J. C. Fischer of which there are over 110,000 now in use. This fact alone marks the popularity of this piano, or rather, the outgrowth of a reliance upon the merits of the Fischer piano.

Besides these we can furnish you any one of eleven different make of reliable pianos.

We have one of the largest stocks of pianos and the finest assortments of standard makes in the west.

We have established a permanent agency with S. C. Burnham & Co., of this city, who have been in business over 30 years, and their reliability cannot be questioned.

GROVES BARNES MUSIC CO., 27 E. Main St., Madison, Wis. A Notice to the Public.

So much has been said, recently, in regard to the firm that we are representing in the piano trade of this city, about their being here today and away tomorrow, we wish to state that the reliability and permanency of the Groves-Barnes Music Co., cannot be questioned, and that every piano sold by us or by any representative of the Groves-Barnes Music Co., is sold strictly on the merits of the instrument. We court honest competition.

S. C. BURNHAM & CO., Janesville, Wis.

Central American Rat

Will Taylor, head clerk for Dedrick Brothers, is exhibiting a curiosity in the way of a Central American rat, which made the long journey from Honduras to this city in a bunch of bananas. Mr. Taylor went to the purpose of getting some bananas for the Dedrick Brothers, and discovered the animal snugly bound in the hay surrounding the fruit. He captured it and now has it in cage for inspection.

The rat is about the size of an ordinary house rat, brown in color with a white belly and is very tame and does not seem alarmed at the people who gather about the box.

About three thousand physicians were in attendance some of them being among the most prominent in the United States. The weather during the meeting was extremely cold, many people going about wearing fur caps and fur overcoats.

All of the physicians from the southern states suffered with the cold, many of them expecting warm weather did not bring their heavy clothing and many left overcoats behind. They ran into a summer blizzard and felt the effects of it. It was an extremely interesting and profitable meeting. Many new subjects were discussed during the session and much valuable information given to the members in attendance.

The evenings were given up to receptions, banquets, sight-seeing and other amusements. John A. Wyrth, a prominent surgeon of New York, was elected president and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Saratoga, New York.

The State Bank of Orfordville, Wis., is responsible and asks a careful scrutiny as to its promoters. Is recommended by four governors and many banks. Pays four per cent. on six months and 5 per cent. on 12 months time deposits.

KILLED BY REJECTED LOVER

Mrs. Ludig Meets Tragic Death Near Kingston, Ill.

MURDERED ON PUBLIC ROAD.

Sister of the Victim Narrowly Escapes a Like Fate—Angry Farmers Pursue the Villain, Who Ends His Own Life with Revolver.

Belvidere, Ill., June 8.—Mrs. John Ludig met a tragic death because she had spurned the offer of love of a former employee. She was shot and killed while driving with her sister by Nels Nelson. He attempted to murder the sister and later, when cornered by a crowd of angry men who threatened to wreak vengeance by lynch law, the murderer took his own life. The tragedy occurred near the village of Kingston, twelve miles south of Belvidere. Mrs. Ludig and Mrs. Wing and two children of the latter were driving to the village when they met Nelson on the road. He asked for a ride and was told there was no place for him in the rig. He laughingly said he could ride behind and was allowed to climb on the rear end of the buggy. The women had not driven far when Nelson pressed the muzzle of a revolver against Mrs. Ludig's head and killed her instantly. He then tried to kill Mrs. Wing, but the report of the first shot had frightened the team into a run and his aim was not so good. The second bullet struck Mrs. Wing in the head and caused only a slight wound.

Pursued by Angry Farmers. The horses gave a quick leap, throwing Nelson to the ground and undoubtedly saving the lives of Mrs. Wing and the two children, as Nelson had threatened to wipe out the entire family. Mrs. Wing soon recovered her senses and notified the nearest farmer of the shooting. In a short time a posse of fifty angry farmers were on the trail of Nelson with the intention of lynching him. About four miles away in a clump of willows they discovered him, but before they could reach him he turned his weapon upon himself and put a bullet through his brain. Nelson had started for the Ludig farmhouse and it is believed he intended to kill the old folks.

Rejects Offer of Marriage.

Mrs. Ludig was about 30 years of age and the mother of three children. Her husband died a little less than a year ago, since which time she has lived on the farm and managed it. Nelson had been in her employ. Some time ago he made suit for her hand, but was refused and shortly after this he let her employ, it being the understanding among the neighbors that she had discharged him because of the affair of the heart. The family supposed he had left that part of the country. Since the shooting neighbors say they had noticed him hanging around the Ludig place for several days.

About nine months ago Mr. Jones, who had been at Warm Springs, started to Ridge Hill. Coming to the creek, which was swollen, his driver, a negro boy, refused to drive in, but Mr. Jones forced the horse in and was drowned.

Spring Clean-Up in Klondike.

Dawson, May 21, via Seattle, Wash., June 8.—The spring clean-up season is in full swing in all parts of the Klondike camp. Millions of dollars' worth of gold dust have been washed from the mountain like lumps of pay-dirt that were taken out by the army of toiling miners through the long, weary months of winter.

Within a month $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 more will have been taken out and the washing of the winter dumps will then be finished. The spring clean-up of the camp is estimated at $15,000,000 and the summer output at $10,000,000.

BRAVE SHERIFF ROUTS MOB

Georgia Officer Balks 300 Men Bent on Lynching.

KILLS ONE AND WOUNDS TWO.

After Beating Off the Crowd He Holds It at Bay Until Governor Candler Sends Force of Militia—Saves Negro Murderer's Life.

Carrollton, Ga., June 8.—Sheriff Joseph Merrill, single-handed, engaged and put to rout a mob of 300 lynchers, killing one of his assailants and wounding two others, and suffering no harm beyond a few bullet holes in his hat. After beating off the crowd he held it at bay until Governor Candler sent here a force of militiamen. At this cost of injury to others and danger to his own life the officer prolonged that of a negro condemned to death for the murder of a little boy, whom he found fishing alone. One of the men who led in the attack was Thomas S. Word, father of the murdered boy. The negro, whose name is Williams, was to have been hanged to-day, but the execution was delayed pending an appeal. A large crowd of people had come to town to witness the hanging, and when it was learned that the hanging was postponed there was much excitement, which soon resulted in the formation of a mob. An assault on the jail was made. The leaders of the mob battered down the outside door despite the warning of the sheriff and entered the building. They made a demand for the key to the negro's cell, but were refused. They then began to advance upon the sheriff, who had stationed himself in front of the negro's cell. They were told to stop or they would be fired on, but the order was not obeyed. As they advanced the sheriff opened fire. George Bennett felt, dying almost instantly. Thomas Smith was badly wounded, as was also a farmer whose name has not been learned. The mob fired a volley at the officer, and two bullets nearly struck his head. By this time the attaches about the jail had been called to the sheriff's side. The unexpected show of nerve by the officer and his little band frightened the lynchers, and they retreated. The Atlanta militia, under command of Major Barker, arrived and escorted the negro and Sheriff Merrill to the train, which was soon speeding southward to Atlanta.

MRS. M'KINLEY IS CONSCIOUS.

Reports of a Comatose Condition Are Emphatically Denied.

Washington, June 8.—There is no truth in the report that Mrs. McKinley is unconscious and in a comatose condition. Neither is it a fact that the physicians are keeping her under the influence of chloral and other sleep-producing drugs. Mrs. McKinley is very weak and there is no effort to disguise the fact that she is critically ill. No one presumes to predict the outcome. With the wonderful rallying power which she has shown it is said she may take a renewed grip on life and live days, weeks, months, or even years. It is not impossible that she may become a practically well woman, though none are so sanguine at the present time as to predict such an outcome. In her present condition it is said she may have a relapse and drop off at any time. But at present Mrs. McKinley is conscious and recognizes Mr. McKinley and others who are permitted to see her.

Package of Money Is Missing.

Rome, N. Y., June 8.—On Tuesday the First National bank of this city ordered from the Fourth National bank of New York $2,000 in $1 and $2 bills. It was shipped Wednesday. The way bill came all right, but no package for the bank. An unaddressed package came, done up like a money package and sealed. The bank, thinking this might be the one looked for, has opened it, and found it to contain nothing but brown paper scraps. The express company is investigating.

Start Girls Right!

Many beautiful girls become invalids for life, because at the crucial period of puberty they pay no attention to the laws of health. Mothers should protect their daughters' health by giving them necessary information and proper treatment. When the menses come on a girl unawares in her inexperience she is either frightened into convulsions, or scared into trying to check the flow. Many girls have checked the flow and it has never started again. And as a result they have grown pale-faced, with "crow-tracks" on their cheeks, and dark hal-moons under their eyes. A dose of taken every morning after a girl is twelve years old will bring the menses on properly and keep them regular. It will help her to develop into attractive womanhood and equip her for the duties of wife and motherhood. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

The Hollywood, Ashbury Park, N. J., February 2, 1900. I read your advertisement in regard to Wine of Cardui in the Baltimore American, and it so favorably impressed me that on my visit to Baltimore during the holidays I purchased a bottle of it for my adopted daughter, who was suffering with female troubles. She had been under the doctor's care for some time, and when her periods would come on her suffering was something terrible. I induced her to try it and the first dose brought on her menses. She took it regularly according to the directions, and was greatly relieved. To use her own words, "It saved my life." J. WESLEY CROSS.

THE ARMY OF TODAY.

SOME GOOD FEATURES OF THE NEW
REGULAR ESTABLISHMENT.At Last the Army Is a Recognized
Necessity—Changes in the Artillery
Arm—Increase in Mounted Troops.
Influence of the Adjutant General.

(Copyright, 1901, by G. L. Kilmer.)

Warlike men are numbers do not constitute an army. This is a common-place declaration, but one which cannot be too often repeated in a country having need of soldiers to do the work of soldiers. In these days of wealth, splendor and leisure it is easy to fill crack regiments and fancy squadrons of amateur soldiers with five feet and odd inches of well fed humanity, but military men know, and they ceaselessly preach the truth, that it requires time and discipline and even hard lines to make fighting men for fighting emergencies.

Uncle Sam has learned a lot about troops and armies and all that within the last 40 years. The experience is now actively at work inspiring the leaders and directors of the military establishment. But for the war with Spain the nation might have drifted along on the old lines, with its 25,000 men moving in a rut and never improving beyond the personnel of its enlisted men. That one element is of the highest importance, and perhaps the country would be better served in a crisis with that 25,000 well drilled and disciplined army which had graduated from the plains than by 60,000 or even 100,000 got together under a popular craze for military service which should be simply another name for glory.

New blood is always a good thing to stir up an old body. The regular army of the United States had a most needed infusion of new blood in the way of officers at the close of the civil war. The military ideas born and circulated during that long contest spread from the executive mansion at Washington to the humblest barrack kitchen and from the halls of legislation to the company parade ground on the Arizona sand hills. No nation ever had more military spirit, well digested military knowledge and actual military potency contained in an army of 25,000 men than existed in the United States establishment of 1865. With that spirit and knowledge diffused among 500,000 judiciously selected recruits there would have been an army without parallel under one banner in all the history of nations.

Some of the spirit and knowledge of the regular army were diffused through the volunteer and provisional regiments called to the field in 1861 and 1862, but not much more than enough to show what it would mean to spread it over an increased establishment so organized as to retain the best things in its predecessor from the lowest rank upward.

Numerous plans had been suggested long before for the improvement of the service and the wider diffusion of military knowledge among the masses. Sherman advocated schools for officers. General Kautz outlined a scheme for drawing into the ranks a class of ambitious young men of capacity, putting them through a course of manual and scientific training and returning them to the people to be the leaders of militia organizations which should be more extensive and more liberally supported than any ever known in the land. Enlisted men were encouraged by new laws to hope for and prepare for promotion to commissioned rank in the expectation that in that way the army would be drawn nearer to the people and the class of recruits improved.

But it was not easy to remodel or reorganize that army of 25,000 men. Radical changes would have done injustice to worthy officers of long service and at the same time have destroyed the personal influence which they exerted in the spheres where they were fixed. It would have been easy to fall into the common error of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, to destroy a magnificent army of 25,000 men and get a poor substitute, all to satisfy a craze for change. As it is, events have worked well for the army, for every part of it, for every element in it. Changes have been imperative, and they have been made, so to speak, under fire. The best that can be done is often the very best that might be done, and at any rate the forced shuffle is certain to bring all the force is, in turn, to the top. With a settling of the elements comes the proof that the shake up was a good thing.

For a century the United States regular army led a precarious existence. Legislators were afraid of it; administrators dare not keep it up to even a respectable standard. After the Revolution it was reduced to one man, and that man George Washington. He was a general without troops, for the founders of the government would not tolerate an institution soavoring of monarchy as a standing army. Finally, in order to guard the few military stores, the force was increased to 85 soldiers. In 1787, when the Indian troubles on the frontier made troops a necessity, a regiment of 600 men was organized, and congress legislated for "the regiment of infantry in the service of the United States." During the first ten years of the nineteenth century the army varied in size from 2,000 to 3,000. The war of 1812 increased it to 25,000, but as soon as the news of Jackson's victory at New Orleans reached the north the army was cut down to 10,000. In the Mexican war the experience of 1812-15 was repeated. The army was expanded to 25,000 to fight at Monterey, Buena Vista and the City of Mexico, then reduced to 10,000 again. In 1861 it was 10,000 and at the surrender of Lee, in 1865, numbered less than 40,000. The Spanish war again found it on a peace footing of 25,000.

The dangers of a large standing army have been cried up more zealously than the dangers of territorial expansion, a state of things which accounts for the halting and half hearted policy of supporting the regular army. Yet when war comes the public looks for a quick showing of brilliant leaders, crack troops and early victories. The establishment to be hereafter maintained should give a good account of itself within a few weeks after war is declared in order to justify the claims for standing armies. Prussia won in 1866 and again in 1870 because of the high efficiency of her standing army.

The new army bill establishes a regular army on a peace footing double the size heretofore maintained and on a war footing about four times as large as in the civil war and after. This should prevent the neglect and deterioration of the regulars in a prolonged war. As a nucleus for a fighting force of 1,000,000 a pitiful 25,000 becomes an absurdity. The regulars were reduced to a nullity in the sixties because they numbered only 1 in 40 of the troops in the field, the rest being volunteers, who cared little for army discipline except as it served the immediate purpose in hand.

One of the absurdities of the old army abolished in the reorganization is the artillery regiment. The system of regiments has been maintained on paper, but never carried into practice. In the civil war aggregations of batteries attached to army corps were called brigades. Batteries necessarily act independently. They are now organized into a corps under a chief of artillery, much the same as the active batteries of the civil war the last two years of campaigning. The army bill provides for 30 field batteries and 126 coast artillery companies, the batteries and companies to be designated by numbers.

Cavalry also receives due attention in the new army. Formerly there were 10 cavalry regiments to 25 of infantry. Now the mounted regiments number 15 and the foot regiments 30. This is a recognition of lessons of the war. Cavalry can fight as infantry, but in moving on horseback can be twice as serviceable at times. In fact, only about half the new army will be infantry. The existing conditions determine in part the composition of the army. Cavalry is needed on the plains to chase Indians, infantry to garrison frontier posts, artillery to man the numerous and increasing coast defenses.

GENERAL H. C. CORBIN, ADJUTANT GENERAL, U. S. A.
(Veteran volunteer and regular.)

West Point influences can have little to do with the reorganization scheme. Graduates of the Military academy are in a hopeless minority in the list of promotions to high grades. Miles is not a West Pointer, and the same of General Corbin, the adjutant general, who has made more of his office than any previous incumbent. For years the office of adjutant general of the army was simply a copying and forwarding bureau for army orders and a repository for military records and documents. Since the beginning of the Spanish war the adjutant general of the army has been only second in importance to the general in chief. Being near the president, the incumbent of that office, if he is the right kind of man, can wield an influence equal to a cabinet officer. Such power is needed.

The army is an institution and cannot safely be left to the whims, prejudices and rivalries of legislators. General Corbin has had no little to do with the management of the army, and he is a veteran of the civil war and of the plains. In the sixties he showed unusual capacity for enforcing high discipline and for keeping his troops up to a fine standard of efficiency. He was a born soldier in the sense of having a military mind. Beginning as a lieutenant of volunteers in his teens, he came out the commander of a regiment. Starting again as second lieutenant of regulars in 1866, he arose to the position he now holds by sheer force of character and military genius. How jealous he is of the welfare of the army was shown when the president appointed Funston a brigadier general. Said he, "Funston is an excellent scout, but the army needs generals who can teach." Recruits wish to be taught to be soldiers, and soldiers wish to be taught to be better ones. The ideal brigadier for a standing army is not a dashing madcap, but a head man, or sort of governor, teacher and ruler.

DRESSES FOR MISSES.

HOW TO MAKE SUMMER GOWNS FOR
THE BIG GIRLS.The Mysteries of Constructing Five
Gored Skirts and French Waists
Fully Explained—Hints About Skirt
Waists.

(Copyright, 1901, by American Press Association.)

Skirts for growing girls are now cut much in the same style as are those of the mothers, but are made more simply. Serge and homespun and such materials are best for ordinary wear, and all skirts are cut with five gores—one in front, two on the sides and two in the back. These may be finished with or without side pockets and open in front at the left side of the seam or open in the back.

Where it is an object a skirt which has become worn at the bottom so that it is no longer possible for the mother can be cut off around the bottom and faced up again and a row or two of braid put on. The material, if of good quality, can be cleaned by sponging it with a little ammonia. But if a new one is to be made it will require two yards and a quarter of 44 inch stuff to make a five gore skirt for a length of 38 inches. It must, however, be material that has no "up and down," meaning that it must have no pattern where if one breadth were to be cut one way and the other another way it would spoil the dress. Napped goods also cannot be cut to the same advantage in this way. It needs material like cheviot, serge, cravenette, or mohair. To cut the skirt one must take the pattern and place the center of the front breadth at the center of the fold in the cloth and then lay the two side pieces on so the narrow part of the front breadth is by the side of the widest part of the side ones. This means that the top of the front breadth lies by the bottom of the two side pieces on the folded goods. There is quite enough room to do this, and when they are turned right side up and sewed to the fronts there is nothing to do but cut the slant in the sides of the doubled back piece, making two of it. This is much wider than any of the others; and the extra width makes the folds or gathers in the back. When the skirt has been cut and basted, it is well to try it on wrong side out, so that it is easy to fit it by pinching it in over the hips. Some skirts cut by the best patterns fail to hang right when made because they were not fitted on and the fullness brought to just where it should be before finishing it off.

For summer dresses one lined, even the woolen ones, but if they are the thinnest and lightest of linings should be used.

Most thin dresses are made with straight skirts and gathered and sewed to the belt. Gathered skirts are especially suitable for young persons. Cotton frocks, which include gingham, zephyrs, lawns, linens, percales, plaques and ducks, besides more than one can give space to, may be made with one flounce at the very bottom of the skirt and not set up on it as has been done. Many rows of stitching and sometimes straps with small clusters of tiny white pearl buttons are among the suitable trimmings for woolen skirts. The blouse waists will prevail for woollens, and they will be worn for some time yet, and these are not unlike, though much more simply made, those of their elders. Velvet cuffs and revers are probably the best.

Skirt waists are to be so generally worn that it is scarcely worth while to mention them except to say that they are mostly rather shorter in the front than before and do not pouch out so much, but fit more like the French waist. They are gathered at the back and at the waist line. The backs are slightly gathered at the bottom, and none has a pretense at fullness at the neck in the back. A few have tucks all the way up in the back, but there are no more yokes. The simpler they are the better.

The quaint, the odd, the fanciful rule in jewels, bric-a-brac and art furnishings. Therefore it is quite natural that embroiderers should have turned again to the dainty conceits of the days of Louis XVI, when under the trees of the Trianon the dames of the court tri-fed with ribbon work, copying in its gay colors the blossoms around them. Perhaps then, as now, the work allured by the ease, permitting that divided attention which is the frequent fate of industry that busies fair fingers in the presence of admiring eyes.

Be this as it may, ribbon work occupies a post of honor, and so attractive has it become that it is likely to hold its own against all rivalry for some time to come.

The familiar narrow ribbon embroidery does not appear to have lost any of its popularity and for delicate decoration is certainly beyond competition. The designs, too, are prettier and more varied in adaptation than ever. When, however, a handsomer and more realistic effect is aimed at, the broad ribbons are a particularly happy medium, as has recently been proved by their application to large and really important subjects, such as portieres and curtains.

A striking instance of broad ribbon work is furnished by a portiere on art serge of a peculiar shade of cool lime green. The motif is an apple tree some eight feet or more in height, in full blossom, the stem and branches being coarsely but effectively treated in rich brown shades of tapestry wool. The high lights touched in with silk. The pink tipped clustering blossoms are portrayed in broad ribbons, which, lightly folded and crumpled in all kinds of deft ways, convey a wonderfully faithful impression of the delicate shell-like petals, as well as of the tender, green, sprouting leaves. At the foot of the tree, by a poetic anachronism, tufts of purple and yellow crocus peep cheerily through the long grass. The crocus, by the way, is a flower which may be delineated to perfection in broad ribbons. The form and color of these welcome harbingers of spring may be reproduced with almost absolute fidelity, so that, for instance, crocuses thus embroidered on white satin for a table center have almost the effect of a handful of freshly gathered blossoms carelessly strewn over the table.

An extremely satisfactory example of broad ribbon work is given in the illustration—a workbag of turquoise blue velvet, with a spray of dog rose worked across it, each leaf and petal standing away from its background as though merely resting there for the moment. The central stem, embroidered in silk, is the only evidence at first sight that stitches have been used to hold it. The same kind of treatment may be adapted to any flower with loose, irregular petals.

Most effective among quickly executed embroidery is the so called Chinese work shown in the second cut. This is in the form of a square of embroidery in very lustrous, smooth cotton or linen on a white background. The coloring combines the rich reds, blues and golds of oriental or crown derby china. Designs of this style are very satisfactory on tea cozies, table covers and doilies.

POPULAR FASHIONS.

THE PICTURESQUE AND THE CONVENTIONAL FIND EQUAL FAVOR.

Empire Evening Dress—The Conventional Bolero—Stitched Cloth Gowns. The Low Collar is Smart, but Not Generally Becoming.

It is rather curious, in looking at pictures of dresses fashionable in 1801 and again at those of 1901, to find the short waisted empire gown a prominent favorite in both. The newest form of empire dress, which is perhaps the oldest, is particularly charming, with its short jeweled belt, whence Evening dress in black and white falls away almost in tunic fashion the dress, to reveal an underdress of lace. With this either very tight sleeves fitting closely to the wrist are worn or very short sleeves made of a tiny puff, the latter being, of course, essentially empire.

Quite as conspicuously as the empire dress forms the ideal for evening wear so does the little bolero distinguish all the day dresses.

But these picturesque styles do not detract from the popularity of the lace and jeweled frock made on the more conventional lines, with short sleeves, puffed bodice and narrow belt, and we still rejoice in the plain cloth dresses with many stitchings and lace or lisse cravat tied with a velvet knot and set into jeweled ends.

The evening dress illustrated is the always desirable combination of white and black. It is of crepe de chine bearing an applique of black lace in waved lines and single motifs, and the bodice is tucked with the lace brought round the figure in very becoming fashion and the lisse fastened into the center of the décolletage with an ornamented button.

The very latest mode for the coiffure is to dress it low, but women in general should be very careful before they adopt this style. With a classical head and well proportioned figure nothing is more beautiful, but for ordinary folk it is distinctly trying.

With the present low style of hair dressing it is absolutely necessary to have the hair full and loose in the front and, of course, waved. Rumor has it that some exclusive people will soon take up the wearing of straight hair, but it is doubtful if the majority will let the present becoming undulation slip into disuse.

All sorts of coiffure ornaments are worn in the evening and, indeed, in the daytime. Ornamental combs prevail, and a wide black velvet bow is always becoming, whether worn across the front or at the back. The single flower, a rose by preference, commands itself as a coquettish fashion.

A Wrinkle in Cooking Steak.

The proper way to cook a beefsteak is to broil it, but oftentimes it may happen that it is not convenient, and the steak must be fried. This may be done very satisfactorily if a little thought is given to the matter. Put an iron saucpan over the fire and let it become very hot; then rub the pan with a piece of butter and put in the steak and quickly brown one side; then turn it and brown the other side. This will keep in the juices. Cover the pan and cook the steak three minutes; again turn it and cook it three minutes longer. If the steak is not of extra thickness, the meat will be cooked sufficiently in that length of time. Place the steak on a hot platter, spread it with butter, season with salt and pepper and serve.

LABOR STRIKES RETARDING TRADE

Except for That Condition the Outlook for the Season is Very Promising.

New York, June 8.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade today says:

"The labor situation in many parts of the country is still seriously unsettled and constitutes a reason for hesitation in some industries, discouraging new operations which unsatisfactory conditions otherwise would stimulate. But quick decision is to be expected in some of these labor controversies, and in the meantime trade is encouraged by reports of a satisfactory condition of winter wheat over a large portion of the country. As for spring wheat, the crop was put in under favorable conditions and there have been few unsatisfactory reports."

Two Young Ladies Resign

Misses Kate Kirk and Mabel Best have resigned from the office force at F. M. Marzluft & Co.'s shoe factory and have been succeeded by Ed. Tracy and Miss Leithner. The young ladies who have resigned will spend the summer in delightful vacations. Miss Kirk is the head bookkeeper for Marzluft & Co. in whose employ she has been for the past ten years. She left his morning for Chicago to visit her sister for a few days. Part of Miss Best's vacation will be spent at Cincinnati where she will go as a delegate to the international Christian Endeavor Convention.

Col. Hall's Collection

When the 10:10 train on the Northwestern pulled into the city this morning the baggage car resembled a traveling menagerie, being filled with cages containing lions, leopards, mountain lions, and pumas. They were a part of Col. George Hall's collection which has been rented for the summer to the proprietors of San Souci park, Chicago. They were fine specimens of their kind and no doubt will make a valuable addition to the collection of animals at the park. They were in charge of one of Col. Hall's animal trainers.

Summer Band Concerts

The Imperial band will give a series of band concerts this summer in the Court House park and on the Corn Exchange square. A subscription list has been circulated among the merchants of the city and quite a sum of money has been subscribed. They are still short of the required amount but think that there will be no trouble in raising the balance. The concerts will be given on alternate weeks in the park and on the square to accommodate the people on both sides of the river. The band will play at Freeport, Ill., on June 20 for the Modern Woodmen of Beloit and on July 4 at Bradhead.

Kodak Party.

The Art League will hold its first kodak party of the season next Friday, in the woods owned by Willis Noyes on the river below Afton. The husbands of the league members are invited to attend. Carryalls will leave the city at 10 a. m. A flag will mark the entrance to the woods, which are at the end of the middle Beloit road. All who wish to attend must communicate with Mrs. C. A. Thompson before Wednesday in regard to refreshments and conveyances.

Children's Day

One of the most important special days of the church year will be observed tomorrow when Children's Day will be appropriately celebrated in many of the city churches. Special exercises will be held in the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches, the observance at the Baptist church having been deferred until next Sunday.

In the four churches which will devote the day to the children there will be special programs by the members of the Sunday school. There will also be baptism of children and appropriate sermons. The churches the occasion.

Fact Equal to the Occasion.

A story is told of the wonderful tact, kindness and hospitality of one of the leaders of Baltimore society, who died recently. At one of her famous reception a rather awkward young man, with little social experience, accidentally knocked over and smashed one of a pair of beautiful and costly vases. Seeing his chagrin and embarrassment, the hostess immediately put him at his ease by declaring: "Oh, Mr. —, I am so much obliged to you for breaking that vase. I never did like it, and I have been hoping that I could get rid of it somehow. Now that you have given me the excuse I am going to give myself the pleasure of smashing the other one," which she accordingly proceeded to do, although she prized the vases highly. It is said that to a stop girl or a theater ticket seller or any one else who did her some favor or act of courtesy her thanks were so charming that the person thanked fairly worshiped her thereafter.—Baltimore Sun.
